PUBLIC PROTECTION ORDERS – Granting Notes

Legal aid for proceedings under the Public Safety (Public Protection Orders) Act 2014 (the Act) is for respondents against whom an application has been made for a Public Protection Order (PPO).

Invoicing

Reporting to Legal Aid Services and invoicing in line with fees under the applicable schedule are tasks deemed to be included in every fixed fee. Additional payment cannot be claimed for these tasks.

Waiting time

Providers are able to claim a single half-hourly unit relating to time waiting for a Pre-hearing Meeting, Defended Hearing, Review Panel Review, or Court Review to begin because the Meeting, Hearing or Review is running late, without the need to provide further details.

Providers can seek a fee for any additional waiting time in excess of the thresholds specified above through an amendment to grant. This will, naturally, be 'after the event'. It is difficult to provide 'evidence' of waiting time running over the specified thresholds, and so a statement is sufficient about the additional time and why it occurred.

Amendment to grant

Providers can seek an amendment to grant in situations that are complex and out of the ordinary

Disbursements

The Legal Aid disbursements policy for Civil cases applies.

Specialist reports

The Civil disbursements policy covers reimbursement for the costs of specialist reports.

The cost of reports from health assessors (defined by the Act as a registered psychologist or psychiatrist) and Restorative Justice providers are pre-approved disbursements except in certain circumstances where prior approval via an amendment to grant must be sought, as listed below:

- the psychiatric/psychologist report is the second or subsequent report sought for the same client and related to the same injury OR
- the psychiatric/psychologist report is sought from an expert who does not reside in New Zealand or Australia OR
- the expected cost of the report is greater than $5,000.

A fixed fee is available on the schedule for commissioning a report from a health assessor or Restorative Justice provider.

Providers can also apply for an amendment to grant in order to cover the time involved with reviewing a report once delivered.

Instructing Agent fee

This fee does not cover the agent's preparation/attendances as they are covered by the fee for the activity being undertaken by the agent.

Additional factors –

If a client demonstrates difficulties with comprehension and/or communication, providers can claim the 'additional factors' fee. Triggers for this fee are –

- mental or intellectual disability
- the need for an interpreter or translator

- other exceptional difficulties.

If the additional factors' fee does not address the costs associated with a client, providers can apply for an amendment to grant under the 'special circumstances' amendment criteria. The same eligibility criteria as for additional factors can be used. If an amendment to grant is approved, the provider would not also be eligible for payment for the additional factors' fixed fee.

Reviews and subsequent activity -

When a Review Panel or Court review of an Order occurs (whether Panel/Court initiated or client – initiated), the client/provider can claim under the same legal aid grant as the original application for the Order because these activities relate to the same matter.

A new legal aid grant is not required. This is the case irrespective of the timeframe in which reviews or subsequent actions occur.
